Failed To Orbit

THE MEN BEHIND the Army's Explorer II satellite present a study of varied reactions as they wonder what happened to the second "moon" launched from Cape Canaveral. The official announcement later said the satellite failed to go into orbit and "probably burned up." Reacting to the fate of the Explorer II are (from left) Dr. Kurt Debus, Dr. Wernher Von Braun and Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris.

Navy Postpones Launching Of New Vanguard Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy postponed—at least temporarily, today's scheduled daylight firing of its satellite-carrying Vanguard rocket. It was due to technical difficulties.

The Vanguard was to follow hard on the heels of Thursday's announcement that the Army's Explorer II satellite had died without going into orbit.

The Navy did not immediately reschedule the Vanguard test vehicle for firing, but said that "daylight firing is a required objective of this particular test."

The Vanguard firing area is close by the vacant Jupiter-C launching pad where Explorer II left earth Wednesday on its ill-fated flight.

A fiery death came to Explorer II, the Army's second space satellite, about 1,900 miles from home over the South Atlantic.

The Army, meanwhile, made plans for more satellites, but they may be bigger and better than the now dead Explorer II. It said it was building Explorer III and would launch it this spring.

THE BLAME for the failure of Explorer II was laid to the 50-pound rocket that carried the satellite as its pointed nose. This was the final stage of the Jupiter-C four-stage rocket system.

The final stage failed to fire. Scientists don't know why and don't expect to find out. The satellite, lacking the added thrust, didn't get up anywhere near the gravity-defying speed of 18,000 miles an hour.

Scientists said it took a long time to find out what had happened to the satellite because of conflicting reports. They spent more than 24 hours evaluating the information that came back from the rocket.

When the 80-inch satellite and rocket assembly plummeted into the earth's atmosphere again, its speed and the friction of the earth's atmosphere created its own fiery destruction, they said.

The burned-up artificial moon was a masterpiece of miniature electronic work. It contained, among other elements, a tape recorder weighing only about eight ounces.

Explorer II was designed to speak when spoken to. While Explorer I broadcasts continuously, some of its data is sent on oceans and wastelands under its orbit and is not heard.

Explorer II was to save some of its information (on cosmic rays) on the tiny tape recorder. It would send this valuable information back to certain U.S. monitors when ordered by intricate radio signals to broadcast.

This would give eager scientists a complete report on Explorer II's entire trip around the earth.

Dems Push Plans To Aid Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic senators pushed ahead today their efforts to develop an anti-recession program including public works, tax cuts, housing and highways.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) predicted the Senate would pass, probably Tuesday, a housing bill he said would produce at least 200,000 more homes this year than under present programs.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said he was confident the Public Works Committee would approve by Thursday his bill to speed up the federal highway program.

There also was a good chance of action on two resolutions which Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) introduced. Forty-seven Democrats and six Republicans joined in sponsoring the resolutions, designed to prod the Eisenhower administration into stepped-up spending on military and civil public works projects.

JOHNSON SAID he had been told that as of Dec. 31, the total unexpended balance for civil and military public works was $5,700,000,000.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) said he would offer a proposal to slash personal income and federal excise levies by $4,400,000,000 a year. But tax cutting appeared to have less support at this time than the other measures.

Meanwhile, the Federal Reserve Board started a third round of cuts in the discount rate, approving a reduction from 2 1/4 to 2 1/8 per cent for its New York, Philadelphia and Chicago banks.

The discount rate is that at which member banks may borrow from the reserve system.

A board spokesman said the reduction was approved "to make credit conditions still more favorable to recovery." The action is expected to bring a further reduction in bank interest rates, and to make loans easier to get.

Gore commented that "this will help, but the person who needs

It Rains Frozen Beans in West

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rain, snow, hail and even heavy beans hit southern California in a wind-whipped storm Thursday.

Miss Teto Emerson, 37, of suburban Van Nuys, thought she saw hail hitting her office building. The pellets were ice-coated navy beans. The Weather Bureau said winds in the fields north of the Tehachapi Mountains could have swirled the beans aloft and carried them some 30 miles to the San Fernando Valley.

Ike Apparently Disappointed by New Red Note

Bulgarian's Letter Carries Nothing New, Is Tagged Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower received today the translation of Premier Bulganin's latest note, urging an East-West summit meeting. He apparently found it disappointing.

U. S. officials who analyzed the letter declared there was nothing new in it. They called it a propaganda document designed to persuade world opinion that Russia is working harder for a summit meeting and for cold war agreements than the U. S.

An earlier exchange of notes published by the State Department showed Washington and Moscow tightly deadlocked.

Officials said that on the basis of this exchange it was extremely difficult to see how any real problems could be solved in a summit meeting.

The new Bulganin message to President Eisenhower, delivered by Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, was still to be analyzed when this estimate was made. The initial impression was that it left the basic Soviet position unchanged.

The notes published by the State Department consisted of a memorandum from Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and a U. S. reply.

IN THE GROMYKO note, the Soviet government agreed to a preparatory foreign ministers' meeting provided it was limited to discussing the time, place and participants of a summit conference and fixing the topics to be discussed there.

The United States reply insisted that the Soviet agreement "falls short" of providing for the careful and detailed preparation necessary before a summit conference can be arranged.

Further, the United States challenged the Soviet government to say now what kind of summit meeting it wants to have—whether the purpose is "merely to stage a spectacle" or whether it is to reach "meaningful decisions."

The Gromyko note had outlined about 10 points for a summit agenda which could be considered by a foreign ministers' meeting.

They included such Moscow-sponsored issues as an immediate halt in nuclear weapons tests, a ban on the use of nuclear weapons and the creation of an atom-free zone in central Europe including Western Germany.

Because rejected again, as did previous messages from Moscow, United States proposals for summit consideration of the unification of East and West Germany and political conditions in Communist Eastern Europe.

The Soviet government was told in effect that if it was prepared to agree that "substantive preparatory work must take place," then the United States is prepared to go forward with either a foreign ministers' conference or negotiations through diplomatic channels or both.

Dayton Area Sees Fiery Sky Object

DAYTON (AP)—Patrol units of the Dayton and Kettering police departments, Ohio Highway Patrol and Montgomery County Sheriff's office reported a fiery object in the sky over the area east of Dayton early today.

Although no definite characteristics or altitude were indicated, it was generally reported as being at about 2,000 feet and moving in an easterly direction.

Air Force spokesmen at the Wright-Patterson and Lockbourne bases said they have no knowledge of what it might be.

Unmanned Freight Plunges into Harbor

TWO RIVERS, Wis. (AP)—An apparently unmanned 10-car freight train moved out of a switching yard at nearby Manitowish early today, roared through this community at speeds up to 60 miles an hour, crashed the iron gates of a coal company and plunged into the local harbor.

The diesel engine and five loaded box cars sank. A sixth box car floated.

The crew of the Chicago & North Western freight was eating breakfast.

Freed Pilots Tell How Bullets Whiz When Reds Hijack Korean Airliner

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The pilot's compartment was "filled with flying bullets" when Korean Communists seized their airliner, the American pilots related today.

"But everything happened so fast I was completely helpless," Willis P. Hobbs of Vallejo, Calif., a civilian, told a news conference.

The Red agents grabbed the airliner flown by Hobbs and Air Force Lt. Col. Howard W. McClellan of Buchanan, Mich., on Feb. 16 and diverted it to North Korea off its regular flight from Pusan to Seoul. The Reds Thursday released the 2 Americans, a West German couple and 22 of the 30 Koreans aboard.

McClellan, in a statement to military investigators, said the plane was on automatic pilot when he heard a loud banging on the door leading from the passenger's compartment.

Then bullets began flying through the cockpit, McClellan said in his statement. Hobbs reported hearing 8 to 10 shots as the two hugged the sides of the plane to get out of the line of fire.

"I grabbed the mike, planning to give a 'May Day' (emergency distress) call as the cockpit was literally filled with flying bullets," McClellan said.

Hobbs yelled that the plane was still on automatic pilot so "I leaned across the floor into the path of the flying bullets and turned it off," the officer said.

Then, said Hobbs, three armed Koreans broke into the compartment. One told him, "We go to North Korea."

McClellan said one Korean pulled out the microphone cords. Hobbs said one of the intruders stood behind "with a gun pointed right at my head."

The Koreans looked like they were determined to succeed in taking the plane or die in the attempt, McClellan said.

The agents were uncertain where to land when they were over North Korea. They finally asked Hobbs if planes on a field 15 miles north of Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, were U. S. Air Force planes. Hobbs said they were Russian.

The agent pointed the gun at his head and said: "If U. S. Air Force—bang!"

The plane's occupants were taken to Pyongyang where Hobbs and McClellan were questioned more than two days. Hobbs said he was asked general questions. But he said McClellan, who was wearing his U. S. Air Force uniform, appeared to have undergone more severe interrogation and seemed "quite shaken up."

"The ordeal was the most trying I have ever undergone in my life," McClellan said.

They were held under house arrest but their armed guards kept out of sight. After the first week the prisoners were taken on guided tours of factories, to Soviet and Korean propaganda movies and to a Chinese concert.

Eleven days after their capture, Hobbs was told his wife, a former resident of Quincy, Ill., had come up to Seoul from their home in Hong Kong.

"Saturday morning they told us the German government had requested our release through Moscow and it would be granted soon."

On Wednesday more than 25 Communist reporters met them at a news conference. Then they were given a three-hour farewell party before boarding a train for Panmunjom.

"That day happened to be my birthday," said Hobbs, almost in tears.

Death Puts Spotlight on Obscure Man

COLUMBUS (AP)—Charles W. Kuhn is attracting more attention after death than he ever did in life.

A bachelor who lived the last 30 years of his life alone in a second floor apartment on Columbus' West Side, Kuhn had built a fortune in real estate and securities.

Probate Court officials value his estate at $887,415. To all indications, they say, he was alone and nearly friendless when he died Feb. 5 in Mt. Carmel Hospital, 11 weeks after being hit by a truck. He was 85.

The inventory filed in Probate Court shows $445,736 in securities and $143,340 in rental property. An additional $276,672 in cash was found in safety deposit boxes. He left no will.

As far as can be determined, Kuhn was born in Columbus, but left at an early age to serve in the Navy for 20 years. He retired and returned to the city, where he worked his way up to chief of maintenance for a biscuit company, again retiring after a number of years.

Mitchell McMillan, who maintains the properties Kuhn owned, said he was "very quiet, very reserved" and "banked part of every dollar he ever had in his hands."

A search for heirs is underway and court officials say four—all first cousins—have been found.

Utility Boss Says Supervisors Doing OK at Keyger Creek

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Valley Electric Corp.'s (OVEC) executive vice president, Fred R. Shedd, says he is impressed with the appearance and morale of the supervisory personnel operating OVEC's strike-bound Kyger Creek power plant near here.

"The men have the plant under complete control," Shedd said after a tour of the plant and talks with the manager, James B. Harrell.

Some 193 members of the Utility Workers Union of America left their jobs Feb. 23 in a dispute over wages and a union security clause to be included in the initial UWUA contract at the plant.

Since then supervisory personnel have been operating the plant, which supplies power to the Pike County Atomic Energy Commission plant.

Unionist Reverses Rap at Clergymen

WASHINGTON (AP)—A union leader's challenge of the integrity of some clergymen brought an apology from him and assured more questions today from senators checking into the Kohler Co. strike.

Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers, quickly softened the criticism he first directed at Roman Catholic priests in the Sheboygan, Wis., area and extended in lesser degree to Protestant ministers.

Under sharp questioning from the Rackets Committee, Mazey conceded that "use of the word integrity may have been a little bit harsh." But he added that "on matters of basic social questions there's much to be desired in the churches of Sheboygan."

Several hours later he issued a public statement saying "I have not and I do not challenge the integrity of the Sheboygan clergy, and if this inference was left, I apologized."

THE CHURCHMEN had adopted resolutions accusing Mazey of attempting to intimidate Sheboygan courts through an alleged boycott effort directed at a judge who had sentenced another union official for strike violence.

The union's strike against the Wisconsin plumbing fixtures firm is now nearly four years old. The Senate committee is seeking to determine the responsibility for various acts of violence.

The clerical attack on Mazey followed his criticism of a circuit judge who had imposed a one-to-two-year sentence on William Vinson, then chief steward of a Detroit UAW local. Mazey called the sentence harsh, and questioned the judge's fitness to serve.

"In my opinion," Mazey said, "the Kohler Co. has influence over the clergy, the bar and the Medical Assn. of Sheboygan County."

Sen. Curtis (R-Neb.) asked whether Mazey was saying that Roman Catholic priests "are not men of integrity."

"What other conclusion can I make?" Mazey replied.

Asked whether he questioned the integrity of the Protestant ministers who signed the resolution criticizing him, Mazey told the committee: "Not on spiritual grounds. But he said, 'Clergymen are fallible on non-spiritual matters.'"

More Highway Maintenance Funds Needed

COLUMBUS (AP)—Because motorists knock down bridges and roadways are subject to wear and tear, Ohio's local governments need more maintenance money.

They hope the state legislature can find it for them. In preparation, leaders of associations for county, municipal and township officials decided in a meeting here Thursday to do some research on financial problems of their respective branches of government.

The money is sought for streets, highways and bridges, says George W. Taylor, because:

"Over the past months, it has become evident to a great number of those responsible for maintenance and repair of local streets and highways that we may be facing a crisis in financing them."

Taylor, a Madison County commissioner, presided over Thursday's session, which he called "exploratory." No mention was made of increasing taxes or fees.

Another meeting will be held after the associations have completed their studies and have recommendations for the Legislature, Taylor said.

The Clark County engineer, Robert F. Eastman, urged that money for bridges be included in any request. He said his county replaced 10 last year, five of which were knocked down by motorists.

Slayer of Motorist Due To Pay With Life

TOLEDO (AP)—A shooting following a minor automobile accident last November led to 54-year-old Benny Collins' conviction on a first degree murder charge.

A three-judge panel convicted Collins Thursday of the pistol-slashing of Ronald Hattery, 25. Hattery was killed after an argument over the accident. The judges did not recommend mercy, which means Collins will be sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Home Owners All Fouled Up By Red Tape

RENTON, Wash. (AP)—Last December the State Highway Department contacted the Algot R. Dravlands and said it wanted to buy their house in this Seattle suburb. The house, the department explained, was on land selected for a new highway.

The Dravlands agreed to sell, for $13,900, and a highway official told them a state check would be along soon. The Dravlands "arranged to move."

Jan. 1 came and went. No state check. Feb. 1 passed and no check.

Worried about the down payment they would have to make on their new property, the Dravlands inquired about the state check. They were told it had been mailed Jan. 17.

The state made a thorough search for the check, without luck. State law prevents issuance of a new check unless there is positive proof the original has been destroyed or unless bond of twice the amount of the original check is posted.

That would amount to $27,800. The bondsman's fee would be $287 which the Dravlands don't have.

'Unloaded' Pistol Kills Mansfield Boy

MANSFIELD (AP)—A 10-year-old boy was shot and killed instantly in an uncle's home five miles north of here today.

Ronald Nelson had gone next door to visit an uncle, Joe Kunz. He found a cousin, Joe Kunz Jr., 20, sitting at the breakfast table. Beside Kunz was a pistol he intended taking with him to his job at a filling station.

The boy's uncle then appeared, picked up the gun, and not realizing it was loaded, pulled the trigger. The bullet struck Ronald in the eye.

Dr. D. C. Lavender, Richland County coroner, returned a verdict of accidental shooting.

Does Roar of Jet Affect Bossy?

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Does the roar of jet planes disturb the cows mildly munching green grass below?

Michigan State University scientists are trying to find out.

W. W. Snyder, MSU dairy researcher, said milk production data is being collected from farm areas near several Michigan jet plane bases. By comparing rate of production with the number of jet flights a day it is hoped to get some indication of the impact of the noise on the cows.

No Official Protest Filed With Commies

U. N. Continues Probe Of Shooting Along Korean Truce Line

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—U. S. Air Force pilot said today he did not know whether ground fire hit a comrade's F86 jet near the demilitarized zone came from Communist or friendly territory.

Lt. Ronald E. Martin of Rock Hill, Mo., said to his knowledge neither plane was close enough to be hit by Communist fire.

An official Air Force release Thursday said Communist fire hit the plane. However, no protest has been made to the Communists.

Martin told a news conference he and the other pilot, who has not been identified, were flying a training mission and were heading for the second of two targets.

"Upon reaching it we encountered ground fire," he said. "At approximately the same time I noticed my lead aircraft burst in flame temporarily. It continued down and I followed it down and saw it crash on the side of a ridge."

THE 25-YEAR-OLD pilot said he glimpsed a parachute drifting down on the Communist side of the demilitarized zone. He returned to his base at Osan.

Martin said he and the other pilot were flying close to their second target but he declined on security grounds to answer questions about altitude, how far he thought they were from the demilitarized zone and what kind of ground fire they encountered.

He said he could not be sure of everything because "things happened so fast in a matter of a few minutes."

South Korean troops man positions in the sector where the incident occurred.

The U. N. Command continued its investigation. A spokesman said the command had no information on the exact position of the two F86 Sabre Jets when the incident occurred. Search planes that flew over the area found no trace of the missing pilot.

The U. N. Command is expected to request his return.

The demilitarized zone is 2 1/2 miles wide. The Communists control the northern half.

Cleveland Dem Raps O'Neill Action On Unemployment

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Criticizing Gov. C. William O'Neill for not meeting growing unemployment in Ohio, Albert S. Porter, Democratic gubernatorial candidate from Cleveland, Thursday night called for a state public works program.

Porter said such a program would stimulate the state's economy and reduce the number of workers out of jobs. Speaking before Toledo labor union leaders, the Cuyahoga County engineer said:

"There is tremendous need for state public works projects. These include highway construction, building projects involving schools, hospitals and welfare institutions and construction efforts aimed at conservation of our natural resources such as the erection of dams."

Dog Given Blame In Fatal Accident

COLUMBUS (AP)—A dog which ran in front of the car was blamed by survivors today for an accident which killed one man.

It happened at 2:35 a. m. on a curve in U. S. 62 about four miles south of Grove City. The highway patrol said the car apparently swerved to avoid the dog and rolled over.

The dead man was identified as Sanford Earl McGhee, 24, of Columbus, a passenger. The injured, taken to University Hospital here are Charles W. Bayes, 25, of near Orient, the driver, and two passengers, Ronald Clark, 21, of Orient, and Clifford Chaffin, 24, of Harrisburg.

Judge Appraises New Ohio Report

Juvenile Problem Here Not as Bad as in Cities

A new report calling Ohio's juvenile problem "alarming" brought forth comments from Fayette County Judge Robert L. Brubaker to the effect that "it's not as bad here as all that."

"I don't want to paint too rosy a picture," the judge commented, but added that it is true that we don't have that collection of circumstances found in larger cities bound to magnify delinquency."

The latest "alarm" report—this one presented to the Ohio Committee on Delinquency and Crime, studying under a Ford Foundation grant—specified that "no one knows just how bad the situation is."

But it did say the number of juvenile delinquents in Ohio is showing an "alarming" increase and the gravity of their crimes has worsened.

The report was prepared by staff members of the National Probation and Parole Assn., which was given the Ford grant. It has not been accepted by the committee, although the information from the first year's foundation—financed study was released to the public.

ON THE BASIS of the report, the committee hopes to come up with a program for action.

The committee has said its first "action" should be aimed at protection for society, but it added "experience has demonstrated that protection of society can best be accomplished by rehabilitation rather than punitive action."

"We have outcroppings of serious juvenile crime here from time to time," Judge Brubaker said, adding "I'd never want to say we've got it licked, because we don't know when it will break out next—or what is going on behind our backs."

"But things such as the outbreak of record-stealing, shoplifting and burglary we had last year have quieted down lately."

"I think it's the sort of thing we have to keep on top of, because it grows by leaps and bounds when it comes, but the best we can do is stop it as we find it."

Judge Brubaker commented: "I do notice that we haven't had major outbreaks among local youngsters since our new probation officer, Richard McMullen, joined our staff."

"I can't say how much of a part he's had in stopping it, but I can't help but believe he's been of help."

Auto Tag Sale At Brisk Pace

Sale of the new blue and white auto license tags for 1958 has been moving along at a brisk pace in the Fayette County Auto Club office here—but there's still a lot more to come.

"Pretty good—I guess you should say fair," Mrs. Fern Chaffin, deputy registrar at the club said.

"We had a few busy days, but it seems to be slackening off now," Mrs. Chaffin said, adding "That's about what we expect."

"Some of the open series plates have not been moving as well, but the Auto Club series have been going briskly," she said.

A total of 7,493 sets of plates were sent to the Auto Club here for the April registration period. Series included KQ, from 651 to 999; KP, from 51 to 1500; and KR, KS, KT, KU, KV and KW, from 51 to 999.

Other selling plates in this area are Mrs. Marguerite Flax of Jeffersonville, who has series KJ, from 51 to 600, and Mrs. L. Hunter of New Holland, who is issuing plates from X9601 to X10400.

How come? The State Department of Agriculture today decided to treat Ohio to its first winter fair, a three or four day event in late January or early February, 1959.

So, you can go to the regular State Fair this year, Aug. 22 through Aug. 29. Then you can attend the winter agriculture exhibition the following January or February. And the 1959 State Fair will be held Aug. 28-Sept. 4.

Harry Dotson, assistant State Fair manager, cautioned that the winter fair won't be so grand a scale as the historic summer fair. But it will come at a time convenient for farmers who can't attend the regular fair because of chores on the farm.

Farmers will get a chance to see new methods and products before they start planting. Recently a farm implement manufacturer attracted 8,500 persons to the State Fairgrounds. This convinced Dotson and others a winter exposition might be a success.

There will be fertilizer, feed and farm machinery exhibits, in buildings that either are heated now or can be heated easily.

There will be a limited livestock exhibition, probably on an invitation basis. But marketing of livestock will be emphasized.

There might even be a class for farmers who grow Christmas trees.

The department is counting on the Agriculture Extension Service and the College of Agriculture at Ohio State University to help plan the winter fair.

Rural Boards, State Attache Discuss Survey

Member of Ohio Body Told Why Plan Is Opposed

Ward M. Miller, Portsmouth, Sixth Congressional District member of the State Board of Education, met informally Thursday afternoon with members of the Fayette County and Miami Trace boards of education and rural school administrators, relative to a survey proposed state-sponsored survey of Fayette County—Washington C. H. school matters.

Local board members expressed their opposition to another survey at this time, pointing out that previous surveys conducted by rural school committees have resulted in a course of action which has been approved by a majority of voters in the rural school district.

Surveys, in which attaches of the State Department of Education assisted, were conducted by the first Fayette County Citizens Committee which represented the eight rural districts then in existence and later by a fact-finding committee representing the 11 districts which eventually were consolidated into the present Miami Trace district.

UNDER A LATER law the Washington C. H. district asked to participate in a Citizens Committee, the second such group which now holds monthly meetings but which has been stalemated by disagreements on a course of action.

The Fayette County and Miami Trace districts have declined to participate in or spend public funds for a new survey which the State Board ordered after a group of individuals who have opposed rural district school construction plans deposited $5,000 in a local bank to help pay the cost of the city-county study.

The Washington C. H. board, by a vote of 4 to 1, has restated its desire to participate in the state survey and has appropriated $2,500 as its share of the expense.

Worker Run Over Twice by Truck

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Lady Luck was working with George Chabnell, 45, of Lucasville, Thursday as he was painting engineering markers on Ohio 75 near Pedro Chabnell, an inspector for the State Highway Department, was run over twice by a state highway truck. He suffered only severe bruises and cuts on his legs and elbows.

A fellow worker, Ernie Farrow of Chillicothe, was driving the truck. It hit Chabnell, knocking him down. A wheel of the truck rolled over both Chabnell's legs just below the knees before another worker yelled at the driver. Farrow then backed the truck up hurriedly and the vehicle again ran over Chabnell's legs.

Three traffic offenders were fined and four forfeited bond in Acting Judge E. S. Woodmansee's Municipal Court Friday morning.

On another charge, being failure to stop within assured clear distance, Kneisley pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs. Both of the offenses occurred March 6 at 10 a. m. on Columbus Ave., and were the result of a traffic accident involving an auto driven by Barbara Ladrach, 34, of 427 W. Elm St.

3 GIs Face Charges For Mistreating Boy

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The U. S. Army—today formally charged two officers and a sergeant with mistreating a Korean boy who was beaten, tarred and put into a small, nail-studded box after he was caught stealing.

The boy, 14-year-old Kim Choon Il, was discovered whimpering in the box Feb. 25 after being found in a helicopter from the Ascom maintenance center to Uijongbu 25 miles away.

Charges were filed against Maj. Thomas G. James, 40, Plymouth, Pa.; Capt. Marvin E. Kemp, 34, Kilmichael, Miss., and Sgt. Robert E. Weidensaul, 32, Pottstown, Pa.

Hitchhiker Picked Up Here Jailed as Murder Suspect

Harry W. Rainier, who became involved in a murder investigation in Cincinnati through a tip by a man who picked him up while hitchhiking near Washington C. H. on Feb. 13, was jailed without charge in Cincinnati late Thursday.

The new turn of events came after a police investigation strengthened the belief that he accompanied Mrs. Margaret McAllister to the Hotel Ft. Washington, where her stabbed body was found Feb. 11, Cincinnati Detective Chief Henry Sandman said.

Rainier, 29-year-old Navy re-enlistee, returned to Cincinnati voluntarily Wednesday from Anacostia Naval Base near Washington, D. C., after an FBI handwriting expert linked him to the case.

Rainier became a prime suspect

PTO at Marion Has Men's Night Committee Named To Nominate Officers

It was men's night at the Marion School Parent-Teacher Organization meeting Thursday night. And, the men arranged for the program and served the refreshments.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Virgil Souther, the president, a committee of Mrs. Cecil Knisley, Mrs. Alvin Armitage and Mrs. Robert Mace was named to submit a slate of nominees for next year's officers at the April 10 meeting.

A proposal that the PTO buy some baseballs, bats and a couple of gloves for the youngsters to use this spring on the playground was approved. Robert Stillings, the school custodian, was commissioned to make the purchases according to his own judgment.

The PTO also approved a proposal that it restock the school's first aid kit. Mrs. Doris Bitzer, the principal, was named to make the purchases.

Mrs. Souther announced that the program for the April 10 meeting will be given by the pupils under the direction of the teachers. The teachers also make up the refreshment committee for the meeting.

Herman Beery, chairman of the men's night program committee, introduced Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brewer and John Brewer of Greenfield, who entertained as an instrumental and vocal trio.

Men served refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, coffee and a milk. Richard Snyder was the committee chairman.

Athletic Banquet At Wayne March 11

The annual athletic banquet will be held in conjunction with a regular PTO meeting at the Wayne Township school March 11, it was announced.

Covered dish dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m., with Mrs. Eugene Thompson, the president, scheduled to conduct a short business meeting.

The Rev. Father Richard J. Connelly, pastor of St. Colman's Catholic Church in Washington C. H. will be guest speaker for the evening.

He Thinks Big Words Aren't the Scary Kind

NEW YORK (AP)—Words such as recession or depression are scary. But, says F. W. Dodge Corp., a building analyst firm, it wouldn't scare anybody if, instead of saying recession, it said:

"The economy is experiencing a retrogradation of economic ebullience."

when he gave Albert Stalter of Columbus a card, on which there was some of his handwriting, when he picked him up near here. Stalter turned the card over to Cincinnati police because Rainier's appearance resembled the description of the man witnesses said registered at the hotel with Mrs. McAllister.

STALTER told Cincinnati police that Rainier told him he was on his way to re-enlist in the Navy when he picked him up and eventually they caught up with him at the Anacostia Naval Base.

Back in Cincinnati, Rainier continued to maintain that "I don't care what the expert (handwriting) said, I wasn't with her (Mrs. McAllister)."

Rainier, a former Cincinnati insurance salesman, declined—for the time being, at least—to take a lie detector test despite the fact that his attorney, Anthony J. DeCenso, Schmidt Building, told Lt. Charles Martin, head of the Homicide Squad, that he thought such a test would be in Rainier's best interest.

"I'm too nervous today," was Rainier's reason for declining the test. He told Martin he would "consider" taking one today.

PRIOR TO formally arresting Rainier, detectives took him on a tour of Price Hill and later placed him on the "showup" stage for viewing by six witnesses.

The Price Hill trail failed to substantiate Rainier's contention that he was in that vicinity the afternoon of the murder, making door-to-door calls soliciting insurance business.

Meanwhile, the witnesses were assembled at City Hall. They were Miss Mary Jo Michaels, 1022 Cross-lane Ave., a waitress at the 111 Bar, 111 E. Sixth St.; Miss Edith Rich, 244 Dorchester St., a waitress at the Windsor Bar, 116 E. Sixth St.; Clarence Hansford, 1517 Race St., bartender at the Windsor Bar; Ralph Sinsinger, 3904 Hazel Ave., a customer at the same bar; Norman Kuneman, 621 Main St., afternoon clerk at the Hotel Ft. Washington; and Andrew Rankin, 644 Melish Ave., elevator operator at the hotel.

ALL BUT RANKIN said they had seen Mrs. McAllister and a man together the afternoon of Feb. 10.

Two of the witnesses, Hansford and Kuneman, previously viewed Rainier on Feb. 18, when he first was held for questioning.

Both repeated that Rainier "looked like" the man they saw in Mrs. McAllister's company.

Chief Sandman declined to say whether any of the witnesses had "positively" identified Rainier.

However, he said the collective result of questioning the witnesses "strengthened our belief that he is the man who registered at the hotel with Mrs. McAllister."

Central, with 46 pupils out, or around 12 per cent of the total enrollment, seemed to be the worst hit. Most of the absences were blamed by mumps, but there is some flu, it was said at the city superintendent.

Some cases of flu have been reported at Eastside, but very few in any of the other schools. Mumps has attacked Sunnyside and Cherry Hill schools in recent weeks, but officials say the peak at both places seems to have passed.

In the county, the Wayne Township school reports significant absence in the first and sixth grades, where the mumps have been going around. But there, too, "the peak seems to be past."

5-Day Stock Price Climb Seen Ending

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's five-day rise seemed to have run out of gas today. Prices were mixed with a lower tendency early this afternoon.

Turnover remained fairly brisk, close to Thursday's rate which was the highest in a month.

Rails continued their technical recovery but the industrial section took a breather. Gains and losses spotted most major divisions of the market.

Some profit taking was apparent following Thursday's gains, gains, largest in two months. Chrysler was ahead around a point.

Small gains, among the rails included New York Central, Southern Railway and Baltimore—Ohio.

Goodyear and Goodrich were each off about a point.

Steels were generally lower. Republic and Youngstown Sheet dropped fractions.

U. S. government bonds improved slightly.

National Cash Register Co. Sales Reach New High of $382,512,000

DAYTON — Sales of all products and services of the National Cash Register Co. reached a new high of $382,512,000 for the year 1957, an increase of 12 per cent over NCR's 1956 volume.

Stanley C. Allyn chairman of the board, in making public the company's annual report to shareholders, said that net income for 1957 was $18,190,000, compared with $18,420,000 for 1956, a decline of 1 per cent.

The slightly decreased earnings were due to greater research and engineering expenditures during 1957, Allyn told the company's 17,704 shareholders. He said that these expenditures had increased from $8,383,000 in 1956 to $13,650,000 in 1957.

The record sales volume achieved in 1957 represented an increase of $41,578,000 over the company's 1956 world-wide sales of $33,940,000. It was the third successive year in which total NCR sales established a new record, with domestic volume up 5 per cent and foreign sales rising 10 per cent.

SALES of NCR commercial products in the United States rose to $212,005,000 during 1957, compared with $201,641,000 in 1956. For the 12th consecutive year, overseas operations produced a new sales record. Foreign sales reached $14,294,000, compared with $13,301,000 for 1956.

Defense sales also increased, from $7,992,000 in 1956 to $26,213,000 in 1957.

The 1957 earnings represented $2.57 per share on the 7,065,282 shares outstanding at the end of the year. This compares with $2.62 per share for the year 1956. Dividends declared during 1957 amounted to $8,473,000 or $1.20 per share. In 1956 dividends totaled $7,627,000 or $1.09 per share (adjusted for a 5 per cent stock dividend.)

Earnings reported by subsidiaries and branches outside the United States for 1957 amounted to $11,945,000 compared with $9,574,000 in 1956. Only those foreign earnings actually remitted to the United States, plus the earnings of the NCR Canadian subsidiary, were included in net income. These totaled $7,534,000 in 1957, compared with $6,672,000 in 1956.

ALLYN SAID that during the past 10 years the company's domestic and foreign sales had more than doubled. He credited these increases to the growing need in the business world for the company's cash registers, a counting machine, adding machines, plus intensified sales effort and the introduction of new products.

Approximately 80 per cent of the company's sales in 1957 consisted of business machines and other products developed during the past 10 years.

Produce-wise, orders for NCR accounting machines during 1957 exceeded those for cash registers for the first time in the company's history. An important factor in this record was the reception given by bankers to the company's new electronic bank posting machine, the Post-Tronic, Allyn said.

Other 1957 advances in the areas of integrated data processing and electronics included the growing demand for NCR punched paper tape recorders, the report stated.

These units—when linked with registers and other business machines—preserve in paper tape business data at the time an original record is made. The tapes can then be processed by electronic methods or other automatic equipment to produce necessary management reports or statistical breakdowns.

Allyn said the past year was also one of rapid progress in development of the NCR 304 electronic data processing system. Several orders have been taken for this general-purpose business system, marking the official entry of the company into the commercial electronic data processor field. Earlier NCR data processors were designed mainly for scientific use.

Other NCR electronic business machines—including a small data processor in the $50,000 price range—are nearing the marketing stage and will make important contributions to the company's future progress, the report stated.

During 1957 new factories were placed in operation in Oiso, Japan, and Sao Paulo, Brazil, and a new Engineering-Research Center completed at Dayton. The company's new adding machine factory at Ithaca, N. Y., is nearing completion and construction has also started on a new plant at Jacksonville, Fla., where business supply items will be produced to serve the southern market.

The report paid tribute to the company's approximately 45,000 employees throughout the world. About 20,000 of these are active in NCR's overseas operations which cover more than 100 different countries.

"The experience, loyalty and conscientious effort of those who make up the NCR organization were basic factors in the company's progress during the year," Allyn said.

Looking to the future, the NCR board chairman said the company anticipated continued demand for its products and satisfactory results for the year 1958.

NCR Plant Here Employs 172, Due To Expand by Late Summer

National Cash Register Co., whose big paper-cutting operation employs 172 persons here, is in the midst of a major expansion program targeted for completion Aug. 1.

A new 550-by-250 addition at the north side of the present plant on Route 35 south will more than double floor space for the supply production division here and eventually mean a "substantial increase" in employment, company officials have said.

NCR's Washington C. H. plant converts bulk paper into various-sized rolls for the company's cash registers, accounting machines and adding machines. Other business supply items, including printed forms, are turned out in auxiliary quarters on E. Main St.

The Main St. operations will be transferred to the new plant when the latter is completed. Joseph E. Peters is manager of the plant here.

This Letter Is Directed To The Farmers Of This Community

Dear Friends:

For several years I have called on you with reference to your feeding requirements, and you have responded and made these pleasant years of dealing with pleasant people.

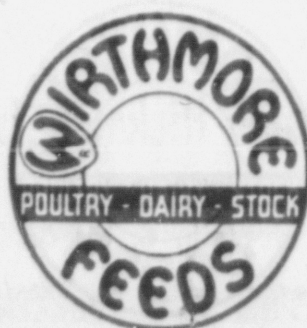

Recently due to reasons too complex to put in this letter, I was forced to make a change. Now I am in a position to continue serving you with a line of farm feeds built to a degree of quality with no superior, backed by years of research and know-how to help produce meat, milk and eggs at a profitable level.

It has been my belief that a good share of the people who have done business with me did so because I represented quality products, plus service.

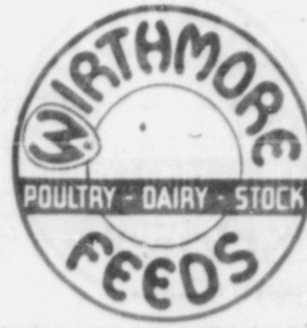

I now represent the Wirthmore line of feeds. My reason for representing Wirthmore Feeds is that I firmly believe that it is the feed that is best for you. Wirthmore Feeds are tops in quality, backed by research, have a constant quality control program and have by far the most outstanding service organization of any feed company.

Hoping to call on you personally soon to discuss your needs and to acquaint you with Wirthmore.

Sincerely,
Steve Sterling

The Controversy over TV 'Pay Programs'

The alleged scandal in regard to a member of the U. S. Communications Commission as a result of the investigation recently underway, in connection with the granting of a TV channel to certain interests in Miami, Florida, is likely to provoke repercussions of far reaching effect.

One thing that may develop will be more public attention to the already growing controversy over special "pay-programs" to be charged to viewers of TV.

Some time ago the federal Communications Commission authorized a trial as an experiment for "pay-television" programs by a ruling that some systems for this could be scheduled to be installed in several sections of the country this year.

This has met with considerable opposition. The matter has flared up even in Congress with several senators and members of the House of Representatives expressing opposition even to the experiment, on the grounds that some heavy investors in such systems will be done an injustice if systems thus installed, should suddenly face a reversal by not being allowed to continue, probably because of public opposition.

In view of the reported improper influence affecting the F.C.C., and the vital importance, to every citizen in the United States, of the final decision on pay-television, most people will think the trials should be cancelled. It would be an injustice to those now preparing to experiment with pay-television, at considerable cost, to allow them to prepare and then cancel the experiment at the last minute, or to begin their experimental pay-telecasts and then be forced to suddenly halt them.

A huge majority of T.V. viewers think the advent of pay-television will eventually mean that the best programs will be taken off free television and sold, program by program, to the pay-television audience.

While many will be able to foot the bill, and spend several dollars a week for pay-television, the poor man will not be able to afford such fare, and he has bought his set on the assumption that television will be free, as is radio. The TV Buyers' trust should not now be violated.

The Boss Is the Boss Again

NEW YORK (AP) — The downturn in jobs has made that forgotten figurehead of business, the boss, a person of importance once more.

It always happens that way. When there are more jobs than people, nobody pays much attention to the boss. He tiptoes around the place talking to himself for fear that if he says something out loud he'll hurt somebody's feelings, and the guy'll quit and go to work for a competitor.

But when there are more people than jobs, such as right now, the boss again becomes industry's "father image." The problem of the wise worker then becomes one of how to please his paycheck pappy.

So it is time to revive again a forgotten American art, the art of apple polishing.

Your older hired hands, who've survived bad times before, know how to do this instinctively, just as an old boxer never quite forgets his footwork or how to protect himself in the clinches.

It's the young employees, who've never known a recession, who are likely through pure ignorance to get gored by a rampant boss now.

So here are a few tips on how to butter up a boss:

1. First, find out who the boss is. If there is a fellow in your office who used to sneak out to play golf at 2 p. m. but now goes around picking paper clips off the floor to cut down expenses, look no farther.

2. Keep your feet off your desk while he is in view. If he speaks to you, rise to your feet and address him as "sir," a polite term used in ancient times to one's superiors. It is not necessary, however, to salute him—unless times get really bad.

3. Maintain a serious mien at all times except if the boss tells a joke. In this case laugh first and longest, but don't overdo it. It isn't wise to let the boss know how scared you really are.

4. Never interrupt his old joke to tell a new one of your own. The boss no longer wants you to be amusing on company time. The only reason he is telling you a joke is to keep his own spirits up.

5. When going to the water cooler, stride up quickly and self-confidently, as if you had really earned the right to a drink, gulp a fast one, and return to your desk. Do not linger around the water cooler to ambush the giggling stenographers. Those days are over for the duration.

6. Around noon go into the boss's office, ask him if you can borrow some salt and pepper, then explain, "A little personal thrift doesn't hurt anyone, chief. I'm bringing my lunch to the office now."

What about America?

Max Freedman, the Washington correspondent of the "Manchester Guardian," writing on Dean Acheson, says of the former Secretary of State:

"... He understands the sensitive nationalist of Canada, the need of Latin America for economic development, the shaken greatness of England, the tragic eclipse of France, the thwarted passion of Germany for national unity. It is because he understands these deep national moods, more important than the successive policies which are their brief and transient embodiment, that he is able to discuss various problems with a detachment and wisdom which have become almost unknown in Washington in the past five years. And he understands Russia, too."

All of this is delightful, but is it not also the function of a Secretary of State to understand the United States?

I am not saying that Dean Acheson is a foreigner in his own country, gazing upon its monuments with the jaundiced eye of a critic from a tired European nation. I am saying that Max Freedman ignores the essential necessity of a statesman or a politician to know his own country, to sympathize with the aspirations of his own people. This must come first if he is to amount to anything at all.

The implied criticism is of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, because in the very next sentence, Freedman says: "He (Acheson) knows that it is dangerous, when it is not merely futile, to base American conduct on speculations about Russian 'sincerity' or to read moral lessons to the Kremlin on precepts drawn from the United Nations Charter."

And why not draw upon the United Nations Charter for precepts? Soviet Russia is a signatory of the United Nations Treaty and therefore is responsible to abide by the terms of the charter. It does not seem logical that the United States should be held to the terms of this and other treaties and the Soviet Russia should be applauded by the seemingly liberal "Manchester Guardian" for violating treaties. As Sen. Styles Bridges said:

"The Russians are engaged in another intensive campaign to have us once again abandon our prerequisites. The Soviets refuse to permit a meeting of foreign ministers because they dislike dealing with Mr. Dulles—the man who was appointed by the President with concurrence of the Senate to represent the United States in international affairs."

"I am unwilling to surrender the selection of our Secretary of State to Bulgarian and Khrushchev."

Sen. Bridges called attention to the fact that after 19 top level conferences between the United States and Soviet Russia, 40 agreements were made and only three were kept the Soviet government, the senator added:

"In the light of this experience, Mr. Dulles is well-advised to use care before entering upon new negotiations. If he did not learn from this experience, we would have real cause to doubt his intelligence."

The curiosity of this phenomenon is that Europeans call American nationalism "isolation," whereas they regard Canadian nationalism as perfectly sound; they regard the "need of Latin America for economic development" important but object to American participation as "exploitation."

"What are we to do? Are we to commit national suicide? Are we to reduce ourselves to a supply station for European policy? Are we to reduce ourselves to a sattellite of Soviet Russia?

It would be interesting to read a "Manchester Guardian" program for America and America's future. Lester Pearson of Canada seems to have such a program, namely that 170 million Americans should submit to the leadership of Canada with its 16 million population.

Lester Pearson would make of his country a leech living upon its richer neighbors. Surely the Canadians are too proud a people to accept such an abridge.

Nevertheless it is out of such stirrings of antagonism between two principal nations who have always lived in peace and cooperation that Lester Pearson got a Nobel prize. A Picasso dove would surely have been more fitting.

What the current attitude of Europeans and Canadians could do, if it became sufficiently ve-

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ALL poison cases are not caused by swallowing harmful medicines or chemicals. In fact, about half of the nation's 6,000 annual reported cases of poisoning are caused by inhaling gases. Then there are things like snake bites, skin and eye contamination and chemical burns.

Need Prompt Care

All can be extremely dangerous and require prompt and adequate first-aid treatment.

The American Medical Association's Committee on Toxicology has approved the following procedures:

Inhaled Poisons: carry the victim—do not let him walk—to fresh air immediately. Open all doors and windows; loosen all tight clothing; apply artificial respiration if breathing has stopped or is irregular; wrap him in a blanket to prevent chilling; keep him as quiet as possible; do not give him alcohol in any form.

Keep Patient Quiet

If the patient is convulsing, keep him in bed in a semidark room and avoid any jarring or noise.

Skin Contamination: drench the skin with water, using a shower, hose or faucet. Apply a stream of water on the skin while removing clothing and cleanse the skin thoroughly with water.

Washing rapidly is very important in reducing the extent of the injury.

Eye Contamination: hold eyelids open and wash eyes immediately with a gentle stream of running water. Delay of even a few seconds greatly increases extent of the injury. Continue washing until the doctor arrives. Do not use chemicals to treat eye contamination since they may increase the extent of the injury.

Injected Poisons, such as snake and scorpion bites: make the victim lie down as quickly as possible; don't give him alcohol in any form. Apply a tourniquet between the bite and the heart and apply an ice pack to the site of the bite. Carry the patient—don't let him walk—to a doctor or hospital.

Loosen Tourniquet

The tourniquet should be loosened for one minute every 15 minutes. The pulse in the vessels below the tourniquet should not disappear, nor should the tourniquet produce a throbbing sensation.

Chemical Burns: wash all chemical burns—except those caused by phosphorus—with large quantities of running water. Immediately cover the area with loosely applied clean cloth. Don't use ointments, greases or powders in first-aid treatment of burns.

You can treat shock by keeping the patient flat and warm and reassuring him until a physician arrives.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

U. G.: My sister had a cut on her face. It healed with a very large, red scar. Will the scar recur if she has it cut out?

Answer: Certain persons have a tendency to form large scars of keloids following injury. Usually they do have a tendency to recur. However, X-ray treatment during the healing stage can prevent this to some degree.

ment, is to stir a contrary movement in the United States, an "America First" movement, "A buy American" movement.

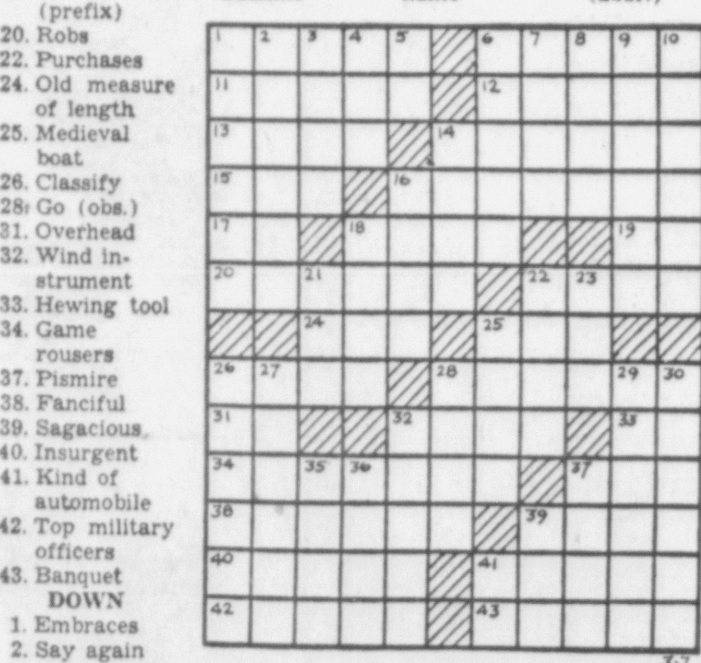

The recent hearings on the tariff are starting not so much that they raise the question of a higher tariff, but that they demand protection.

We might go back to a sufficiently high tariff to show that we are thinking about ourselves, too.

2 Opinions Given Affecting Schools

COLUMBUS (AP) — A ruling by Atty. Gen. William Saxbe says a county judge may also be a member of a school board or hold the position of school teacher if "it is physically possible" to attend to both duties.

Saxbe said he found nothing in constitutional, statutory or common law which would specifically prohibit the jobs as noncompatible.

In another ruling, Saxbe said school boards under Ohio law are without authority to spend public funds for liability insurance against damage from explosions of steam boilers.

Department Store Sales Show Dip

CLEVELAND (AP) — Total sales by department stores in the Fourth Federal Reserve District during January were one per cent under a year ago, the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland's Research Department reports.

The survey, which made no adjustment for price changes, showed that sales of radios, phonographs and TV sets were up 5 per cent from a year ago, and sales of women's clothing were up 3 per cent. Other departments of merchandise showed decreased sales.

Buyer Is Captivated By Ring She Tried On

GREENFIELD, Ind. (AP) — Young Janet Blue didn't have much choice on which ring to buy in a Greenfield jewelry store.

"I believe I'll take this one," she told the clerk.

The clerk asked if she wanted it wrapped.

"No," Janet replied casually. "I will just wear it. As a matter of fact, I can't get it off my finger."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A MAESTRO with decided notions of his own put together an orchestra of 48 strings and one drummer. Came the evening of the big premiere. The maestro had just raised his baton when the nervous drummer banged on his drums and crashed his cymbals.

The maestro dropped the baton. "Okay," he snarled. "Who's the wise guy?"

Little Oswald had been an unmitigated monster, and his dad decided to let him have it. "Give him one more chance," pleaded his ma. "Don't punish him yet; wait till he does it again." Pa paused dubiously and remarked, "Yeah, but supposing he doesn't do it again?"

Jane Gaskell, author of a best-selling novel in England when only 15 years old, was asked what her book was about. "It's a bit difficult to remember," confessed Jane. "I wrote it when I was 14!"

Commercial Driver School Laws Cited

COLUMBUS (AP) — Regulations governing commercial driver training schools in Ohio will become effective March 10.

Gordon B. Jefferey, director of the Department of Highway Safety, said the regulations were drawn up in accord with a law passed by the last session of the General Assembly giving the state the power to license and control such training schools.

The regulations state that schools must provide adequate training equipment, make no guarantees that students will pass the state driving test, have sufficient insurance to protect students and refrain from implying in advertisements that they are approved by the Highway Patrol or the Department of Highway Safety.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
One day this week I was invited into a place of business to attend a very unusual celebration.

When I arrived, there was a sizeable cake with eight candles and attractively decorated.

It developed that the man was celebrating the eighth anniversary of the day he took his last drink of liquor, and he had taken the novel idea of having a large cake baked and inviting in some of his friends to help him celebrate the occasion.

When the baker learned what the cake was for, he admitted that it was the first cake he had ever turned out for such an occasion, and wishing to place something appropriate on the cake in the way of decoration, he inscribed, in green icing, "Last drink, March 4, 1950".

And then, (of all things) he enhanced the cake with four roses
—name of a well known brand of liquor.

After we all had a laugh over the unusual decorations, the man for whom the cake was made decided the artistry was all right, and said,
"Well, I can eat four roses, but it is a cinch I will never drink any more four roses."

MORE SPEED LIMIT SIGNS

In an effort to further reduce excessive speed on streets in residential areas, more speed limit signs —35 miles per hour—are being installed on the main thoroughfares.

Heretofore, the only speed signs on these streets have been at the corporation lines for incoming traffic, and at the edge of the business area for outgoing traffic.

With additional speed limit signs posted along these main thoroughfares, attention of the motorist will be drawn to the fact that 35 miles per hour is the limit anywhere in the residential area in the city, except dangerous spots which are marked 25 miles.

Police, in this way, expect to help reduce speeding. They also are taking steps to curb the night
speeding in residential areas, where automobiles and trucks have been racing up to 60 miles an hour and more late in the night.

Incidentally, the speed clock,
which has been out of commission for two months, has been repaired is now back and ready for immediate use.

"CROWS EAT ANYTHING"

I have heard it said more than once that crows will eat anything, and I have seen enough of the feeding habits of these big, black marauders, to believe the old saying is correct.

I have seen where they have pulled up small wheat plants, and corn soon after the sprout had come through the ground. I also have seen them feeding on ripe corn.

I have seen robins and other birds attack them after they had eaten their eggs or devoured their young in the nest.

Recently while in northern Fayette County, I saw a half dozen crows on the highway, pecking energically at carcass of a dead opossum.

Farther on a number of crows were gathered about another object in the road, pecking away, and when I approached they took wing, as the others had done, and I noticed they had been feeding on the carcass of a skunk.

Yes! "crows will eat anything!"

TWENTY YEARS AGO
A former Greenfield football and basketball star, 22 years old, confessed to 67 crimes, including one bank robbery in Iowa, and is now facing charges.

The Jeffersonville - Jamestown
Rd. was added to the state highway system in county.

Joseph Allen, 96, one of five Civil War veterans who still survived in Fayette County, died at his home in Jefferson Twp.

All children of city and county schools were to be vaccinated against smallpox as result of many cases in Ohio.

Nearly $10,000 in delinquent taxes was paid in county, and suit to collect many times that much was to be filed against the delinquents.

Green Twp. trustees purchased for $1,100 a frame building in Buena Vista used for years as a "beer garden" and converted as into a township house.

Transfer of the Milledgeville
Bank to Jeffersonville and increasing capitalization from $25,000 to $35,000 was planned.

Fayette County Co-ops did $164,- 585 business in 1957.

Farmers of county were still holding upward of 100,000 bushels of wheat for increased prices.

Eagles Lodge purchased Odd Fellows Building, Fayette and Market Sts., and were to remodel it for early occupancy.

Five thousand pounds of oranges (super commodities) were distributed here 8 to 30 pounds to a family.

Stork Gets Lift From Bulldozer

CANTON —The race against time was nervous strain enough for Glenn Payne as he chattered his pregnant wife toward a local hospital.

Then, about 100 yards from the hospital, he found his car blocked by a six-foot-deep ditch where an expressway crossing is under construction. To backtrack would have been several additional miles.

City Inspector Glenn Dauback went to the car in answer to Payne's call and asked: "Is this an emergency?"

"Is it ever!" Payne answered,
and explained.
In two minutes a bulldozer had filled enough of the ditch to enable the car to cross.

It was a boy. Mother and baby doing fine.

COLUMBUS — The Utilities
Commission today set a public hearing for April 24 on the request of the New York Central Railroad to discontinue its last passenger train service between Cincinnati and Toledo.

The railroad last Dec. 16 asked permission to discontinue two night trains because of a decrease in passenger business which made them unprofitable.

The railroad on Oct. 27 discontinued its last day trains between the two cities.

Bible Words for Today

I JOHN 1:10 — "If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us."
(King James Version)

Some do away with sin in their lives, not by the grace of God, but by a simple mental trick. They say there is no such thing as sin. It is just an old-fashioned concept conjured up by religious folk to keep people from being happy.

To do away with sin this easily is a nice trick
if you can do it. But our text says you can't do it.
You only trick yourself. "If we say we have no sin,
we deceive ourselves."

The evidence is all in favor of this statement.
Those who try to dismiss the whole idea of sin are the very ones who end up with all sorts of vague and morbid feelings of guilt and frustration and unhappiness.

When we run away from reality, we become the victim of unreality and illusion. If we start out from what we aren't, we won't have much of a chance to become what we might be.

The Jolly Jumpers 4-H Club met last Saturday at the home of their advisor, Mrs. Harold Moats, for their first meeting of the year. Fourteen girls were present.

Jean Montgomery was chosen president for the coming year. Toni Huffman will be vice president; Patty Lou Williams is secretary; Mary Jo Strong takes over the treasurer's duties; Phyllis Jean Morgan is health leader; Arita Moats will lead the safety program; Vickie DelPonte is recreation leader; Nancy McClung is song leader; and Donna Schneider will report the news.

Light refreshments were served to the group by Arita Moats, Phyllis Morgan and Patty Lou Williams.

Mrs. Emery Lynch and Mrs. John D. Williams assisted Mrs. Moats.

The Jolly Jumpers will meet again March 22 at the home of Patty Lou Williams.

Wayne School Gym Water Pipe Breaks

Wayne High School's gymnasium is closed because of a break in the water line—but, since the basketball season is all over, school activities have not been disrupted. Supt. W. W. Boyer of the Miami Trace district, made it plain, too, that the school proper is not affected and that classes are being held as usual.

The break, Boyer said, was somewhere along the 115-foot length of the pipe. Because the line is approximately 6 feet underground, it was cut off at the well pump and arrangements were made to lay a new line, rather than dig up the old pipe.

Service is expected to be back to normal within a few days, soon enough for the double-feature alumni basketball program there March 14.

101-Pupil Olive School Boasts Own Newspaper

Any bright youngster bent on starting his own newspaper these days can count on a standard piece of advice from old hands in the game:

"Don't."

But youth, with an engaging lack of filial piety, has traditionally wormed in where angels fear to tread, and gotten away with it.

Such was the experience, for example, of a group of young people in southern Fayette County who have started a newspaper "mainly because we had time on our hands."

So far, "The Olivian," monthly journal of the Olive School, Route 62, has attracted the princely total of 85 readers, and has netted the founders a heartening $1.30 profit.

Al, of which leads Editor Brenda Burton and Publisher Leo Davidson to say, with excusable assuredness, "we plan to put out our second issue in March."

ADMITTEDLY, the Olivian as yet faces none of the cost and personnel problems which so often plague other newspapers. But at the same time, the backers of the new gazette had to put up the money, organize a staff, make assignments, gather stories, read copy, keep books, handle sales — and even run the press — largely on their own initiative.

Mrs. Alma McCoppin, six, seventh and eighth grade teacher, who says "I just love them all," admits that she has given some assistance — mainly typing and moral support. But she passes on to the nine eighth graders themselves any credit that might be coming her way for keeping the venture on its feet.

"There are many interesting articles in the paper this month," a first-issue editorial by Editor Burton declares, candidly. She backs up her claim "There is an article about February's birthdays, an interview with one of the teachers and an article on manners." She asserts, firmly: "We will be seeing you next month."

Actually, the three examples advanced of the type of material in the first, four-page mimeographed issue only begin to describe the issue's contents. The paper also contains reports from all the grades, a big-city style rundown of major events, a sports column, and a full-fledged feature page.

THE PAPER has even launched a crusade: an essay and a news story both make clear the management's approval of the above-mentioned topic, "manners in the cafeteria."

"These boys and girls get all their work done so quickly, they had to find something to take up their extra time," Mrs. McCoppin explains, describing the beginning of the paper. She adds, "once the idea was out, they picked it up quickly with their own initiative."

John Rockhold acts as sports editor of the Olivian. Howard Davidson is "birthday reporter." Other reporters, including those from the lower grades of the 101-pupil school are: Bruce Shoemaker, Linda Cockerill, Tom Cockerill, Linda Pollard, Brenda Pollard, Marjorie McLaughlin, Patty Eakins, Deanna Baker, Jean Burton, Ronnie Haines and Nina Roehm.

Algeria, a part of the French empire in North Africa, includes 850,000 square miles, three times the size of Texas. Of this area, 724,000 square miles are in the Sahara Desert zone.

Brenda Pollard, Linda Pollard, Brenda Burton, Linda Cockerill and Ronnie Haines; third row, Bruce Shoemaker, Nina Roehm, Marjorie McLaughlin, John Rockhold, Harold Davidson and Tom Cockerill.

"IS THAT THE WAY IT HAPPENED?" Editor Brenda Burton checks the facts in a story with Sports Editor John Rockhold. Patty Eakins, third grade reporter, is next in line for the blue pencil.

30-Barge Tow Believed Record

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — One of the largest tow-loads in the history of Ohio River traffic passed here Thursday en route from Yanketown, Ind., to Madison, Ind.

The 30 barges, loaded with fifty thousand tons of coal, are being pushed by the Philip Sporn tow-boat from Jeffersonville, Ind. Lockmasters here said the load was the biggest they had ever seen. They said an average load would consist of 15 barges.

Rivermen said the heavy load would not have been attempted if the Ohio here hadn't been 15 feet above normal stage.

San Simeon Castle To Be Opened

SAN SIMEON, Calif. (AP) — Fabulous San Simeon Castle, cresting a mountaintop like a white crown, prepared today to reveal its long-hidden splendors to all.

For decades it has been the guarded setting of many of the world's great art treasures.

But its vaulted rooms will echo with the tramp of tourists' feet beginning May 17. By then it will be the property of the people of California, a monument to its builder, the late publisher William Randolph Hearst.

The Hearst family will turn over the twin-towered, 146-room castle, its untold wealth in statuary, paintings, tapestries and other art objects and 120 surrounding acres, to the state within the next few days. Between then and May 17 the state will complete arrangements for opening it to the public.

The state opened the property for a preview by newsmen.

The castle overlooks the Pacific 250 miles north of Los Angeles. Zebras, gnus, elk and goats from what once was Hearst's great collection of animals gallop over the hillside.

The great assembly room of the castle is 100 by 40 feet. There guests gathered in lavish settings before being served in the austere refectory over which gently sway the banners of 16th century Italian noble families. Great figures of government, entertainment and society were hosted there in regal manner by Hearst.

Air Plant Blamed For Mine Blast

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The Amonate, Va., coal mine explosion, which killed 14 men and trapped 14 others last Dec. 27, is believed to have been caused by a break in the system guiding the flow of air through the mine, federal and state inspectors said.

The trapped men were rescued about six hours after the blast in Nov. 31 mine of the Pocahontas

Alan and His White House Letter

Alan Bailey, 8, of 126 Grand Ave., will testify proudly that when a little boy writes to the President of the United States, he gets an ANSWER!

Alan wrote to President Eisenhower in the middle of January, saying, among other things, that "I'll vote for you from my school, if you run for election again!" Alan's mother, Mrs. William C. Bailey, found Alan's reply in the mail in an inconspicuous envelope marked "White House."

The letter, acknowledging Alan's correspondence was signed by Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams.

Alan's letter to the President came as a result of a third grade English class letter-writing lesson Mrs. Elvin Lust, Alan's teacher at Cherry Hill School, says that she told the children to write letters to their mothers, but enterprising Alan had his own ideas!

WHS News Briefs

By-Lines

By RON COFFMAN

This past week was the one week out of six that students would actually have preferred to remain in school rather than go home, for this was the week that grade cards were distributed.

Many students found themselves wishing that they had studied a little harder during the past term, while others were rather happily surprised over the grades they received.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL meeting Wednesday was a busy session with a number of items on the agenda for discussion. Plans were made for the Student-Techer Game to be held on Wednesday, April 9. Proceeds will go toward the scholarship to be given to a senior student.

The admission is 50 cents for adults and 40 cents for students.

Names for the nominees for the Senior Scholarship award are to be turned in to their homeroom council representative by May 1.

The date Thursday, March 27, has been set for the campaign speeches for the post of Student Council president next year. The council discussed the possibility of this and the project is welcomed as an opportunity for bettering international relations and broadening our own education. Students will be given a chance to discuss this in their homerooms.

THE JUNIOR CLASS play, "The Great Big Doorstep", will be presented tonight in the WHS auditorium at 8 o'clock. The production centers around the struggle of a Louisiana family to buy a new house and better their social position. When the family attempts to raise the money with which to buy the new house, everything goes wrong. They are besieged by bill collectors, bad checks, and parasitic relatives as one humorous plot dissolves into another.

The way in which the family triumphs will bring both delight and humor to the audience.

THE ANNUAL District Music Contest will be held in Wilmington, Saturday, Washington C. H. will be well represented with members from both the vocal and instrumental department. Representatives from the instrumental music department include solo instrumentalists, duets, trios, and the larger group of the brass ensemble.

Participating in the contest from the vocal music department are the Male Ensemble (Jane Davis, accompanist) singing "Over The Morning Sea". Students in the Male Ensemble are Raney Foster, Sheryl Elliott, Floyd Southward, Ronnie Thomas, Dave Reno, Buddy Lynch, Tom Seaman, Kenny Evans, Gilbert Crouse, Dick Willis, Chuck Hise, Bob Martindale, Doug Rider, Aaron Foster, Larry Miltstead and Jerry Crissinger.

The Mixed Ensemble (Martha Parrett, accompanist) will present "Now Sing We All This Day." This group is composed of Sheila Robinson, Sylvia Lee, Judy Brooks, Ann Johnson, Jane Whiteside, Jean Conaway, Barbara Rose, Coralee Shaw, Buddy Lynch, Dave Reno, Roger McClean, Raney Foster, Larry Miltstead, Jerry Crissinger, Bob Martindale and Mike Chakeres.

The Girl's Ensemble will sing "At The Close of Day" accompanied by Kay Minshall. Members of this group are Ann Johnson, Sylvia Lee, Sandy Mickle, Judy Brooks, Jennifer Newbrey, Jean Conaway, Jane Whiteside, Coralee Shaw and Barbara Rose.

There are also several solo numbers: Sylvia Lee — "My Man's Gone", Ann Johnson — "Dawn", Barbara Rose — "Ho! Mr. Piper", Richard Willis — "Shenandoah", and Mike Chakeres "Sylvia".

THE SCHOOL YEAR 1958-59 may seem quite distant to us now, but it comes closer when we realize that during the next two weeks all WHS students in grades 7 through 11 must make their decisions as to what courses they wish to enroll in next year.

During the coming few days all teachers and students will be working together to iron out scheduling difficulties and make up a program that will be both beneficial and enjoyable to the student.

It is necessary for this program to start at this time to do the tremendous amount of paper work and personal counseling that goes into making this type of project a success.

All students should, with a reasonable amount of consulting, be able to decide without a great deal of difficulty what courses they wish to enroll in, because of the classification system of courses used by WHS.

This classification system groups all subjects under five headings, college, home economics, industrial arts, stenographic, and business. Under these five headings are listed all the required and elective subjects available to a person in that course throughout the four years of senior high school.

Students may not switch to one course from another without due consultations with school officials and with their parents. In order to better inform student of the required subjects and needed credits for graduation, as well as subjects that he may take as he so chooses, WHS has put out an eight-page brochure describing in detail all requirements for graduation, what arrangements this high school has concerning smaller school operations, the number of credits needed to be in each grade, as well as special notes on many of the more selective subjects in the WHS curriculum.

One subject given extensive coverage by the brochure is the new distributive education program that will be initiated here next year.

THESPIAN POINTS — We promised to provide a clarification of the Thespian point system. As promised, Earl Palmer, chairman of the Board of Directors of Thespian Troupe No. 449 has correlated this information.

To become a member of the National Thespian Society is to achieve highest honor possible for a high school dramatist.

Members are selected on the basis of the number of points accumulated by a student in his various activities. A minimum of 10 points is required for membership.

Since the point system for the selection of members for the National Thespian Society is especially designed to be very flexible, it is difficult to set forth any hard and fast requirements for a prospective member to meet in order to gain points counting toward membership. But it is at least possible to state in which areas points are or are not awarded.

Listed below are the more common activities for which points are awarded, but it would be well to here note that the number of points given for a certain activity may vary, according to the number of productions performed at the school in a given year. The troupe sponsor, Mrs. Sally Hagerty, has the final voice on all phases of the point system.

What's Wrong with Economy?

Nearly All Eyes on Capitol For Spark for Recovery

By STERLING F. GREEN
Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of articles surveying the current business recession in America.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost every recession-troubled state, city and industry is looking hopefully to Washington for the actions and policies — and, chiefly, the spending — that will spark a business recovery.

This is true even in the many states and towns which have tackled their problems with do-it-yourself solutions like local tax cuts, public works and lures for new industry.

Associated Press reporters who visited corporation offices, union headquarters, relief lines, city halls and statehouses in their nationwide "How's Business?" survey heard one theme stressed almost to the point of monotony: "Our recovery depends on the federal government."

Most of the speakers hoped for the arrival of big defense contracts. Many wanted tax reduction and further easing of credit. Mining men called for tariff boosts on foreign metal. Railroads wanted higher freight rates. Washington alone, they all implied, has the final answers.

Some of the comments had political overtones, a majority of these being unfavorable to the Eisenhower administration.

In the proud, Republican, mostly Mormon state of Utah—which is now distributing food to the unemployed for the first time in memory—reporters heard grumbling about "Republican prosperity."

By contrast, some people said they were reassured by the President's recent words and actions, including his record peacetime spending budget. A North Carolina builder observed: "Before, like was going to balance the budget at all costs. Now he's committed to deficit spending, and that means inflation and a boom."

There weren't enough politically slanted comments, however, to be taken as evidence that the recession will hurt GOP candidates in the November congressional elections. Most interviewers ignored politics and talked about the immediate problem — finding and creating jobs.

The survey did indicate, however, that pressure is growing in harder hit areas for faster, more positive action than the administration so far has taken.

To date the federal stimulative measure, as listed by President Eisenhower in his recent chimp-up economic statement, consist mainly of programs that were in progress or pending before the full impact of recession was felt.

They include the credit loosening steps begun by the Federal Reserve Board last October, the federal-state highway program, stepped up placement of military contracts, some liberalization of housing credit, a half-billion-dollar increase in civil works, a five-year post office building plan, and more lending to bolster foreign trade.

Without waiting for Uncle Sam, "Operation bootstrap" is being attempted on thousands of local fronts, public and private. These range from the major "crash programs" of public works of Vermont and Pennsylvania to the simple, hopeful device of Chipley, Ga.

Pine Mountain in hope of luring more tourists.

These are some of the statewide efforts:

1. Highway and public construction speedups have been ordered in Missouri, Idaho and elsewhere.

2. Oregon, finding itself with a budget surplus, cut its income tax 20 per cent. Maryland is pondering the removal of some business taxes, but Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin has proposed a 50 per cent increase in income taxes.

3. Special sessions of state legislatures have been considered — but not yet called — in Vermont, Washington and other states to take up tax cuts, bigger unemployment compensation benefits and other remedies.

4. States which have authorized "development corporations," to help new businesses get financing, are using them to intensify the fight on unemployment. These include Arkansas, Vermont, Maine and Minnesota. The Connecticut Development Commission is focusing its efforts on getting the state a bigger share of missile contracts.

Judge Medina Quits U.S. Circuit Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has accepted the retirement of 70-year-old Judge Harold R. Medina of the U.S. 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals, and in a warm letter wished him many happy years.

Medina came into the national news spotlight in 1949 as presiding judge at the trial of 11 top Communist leaders convicted of conspiracy to advocate the overthrow of the government.

Medina reached 70 on Feb. 16. Retirement from active service means that Medina still can sit as a judge, but at his own pleasure.

Belle-Aire Grade School Level Changed

Better Drainage Seen; Work Begins On Two Projects

A "change order" which will raise the level of the new Belle-Aire grade school building 16 inches was approved by the Washington C. H. Board of Education at a special meeting Thursday afternoon.

At the same time it was announced that masonry is being laid at the site of the new Rose Ave. elementary addition and at the site of the new Eastside grade school, Elm and Willard Sts.

Footers were poured for the Eastside project earlier this week. The building will not have a basement, since a boiler room is an integral part of the one-floor construction plan. Little grading was necessary on the 30-acre lot.

THE LEVEL CHANGE at Belle-Aire designed to improve drainage, will add $4,960 to the cost of the building because of the larger fill

State Exams Booked For Typists, Stenos

COLUMBUS (AP) — State Civil Service examinations for jobs as stenographers, typists and clerks will be held March 12 and 19 in Akron, Athens, Canton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Lima, Mansfield, Portsmouth, Toledo and Youngstown.

The Civil Service Commission said information about the examinations can be obtained from state employment offices and county auditors.

and additional foundation material needed.

Even with the change order, however, the total cost of the two new grade buildings and two additions will remain within the $645,000 raised through a bond issue voted in 1956.

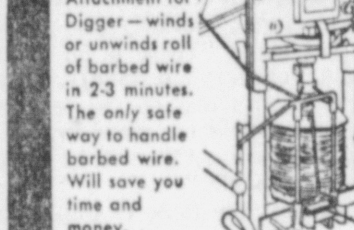

The board also agreed that the Belle-Aire building should be set back an additional 10 feet, making it 70 feet from the High St. property line. This will provide a wider roadway in front of the building.

Hot-Shot Teams Due To Tangle In 'AA' Playoff

Middletown-Hamilton
Duel 3rd of Year
This Time for Glory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two teams which have won nine of the last 14 Ohio high school Class AA basketball championships meet tonight. One must be sidelined.

The hot-shot teams are defending champion Middletown, seventh-time king of the Buckeye basketball, and Hamilton's Big Blue. The Middies, with a 73-game winning streak, and a current 21-0 mark for the campaign, have defeated Hamilton (18-3) twice this season.

The game is half a twin bill which sends three of the state's "top 10" teams into action: in the Cincinnati district meet, Middletown is No. 1 in The Associated Press poll, and Hamilton No. 9.

The other contest offers seventh-ranked Cincinnati St. Xavier, which boasts a 22-game victory string, against Cincinnati Taft (17-5). Winners advance to next week's regional play at Cincinnati.

Middletown and Hamilton have made Butler County the state's basketball capital. Middletown won the title in 1944, 1946, 1947, 1952, 1953, 1956 and 1957. Hamilton was the victor in 1937, 1949 and 1954.

Canton McKinley, which has been in the state title contest five times without grabbing the crown, gets a chance to reach the regional tonight. The Bulldogs (18-3) tangle with Cuyahoga Falls (14-6) at Kent.

Six Class A quintets also will qualify for regional play in tonight's games.

With the Class AA field of 387 slashed to 40 in Thursday night's frays, a half-dozen former champions and nine of the final poll's top 10 are still in the scrap. The ex-champions are Middletown, Hamilton, Findlay (1948), Newark (1936, 1938 and 1943), Zanesville (1926 and 1955) and Columbus East (1951).

Columbus North and Cincinnati St. Xavier, the only members of the state's Class AA top 10 in action Thursday night, made it through another round.

North, sixth ranked in the final poll, won handily over Columbus St. Charles, 75-57. It was the Polar Bears' 21st victory in as many games this year.

Seventh ranked St. Xavier ran its perfect record to 22 in a row with a 59-48 conquest of Cincinnati Elder in the Queen City.

Chuck Zerg of Tiltonsville was the big scorer in Thursday night's contests. He poured 45 points into the hoop in a 75-68 verdict over favored Cadiz at Martins Ferry. The conquest sends Tiltonsville (16-5) against Zanesville's third-ranked club, which has a 21-0 record, in Saturday's Eastern District finals.

The Class A field of 646 teams was reduced to 42 in Thursday night's play, and included in the survivors were three former champions. They are second-ranked Miller City (1950), Columbiana (1947) and Arcanum (1956).

Arcanum (20-2) meets Fairlawn (20-5) in Saturday's finals in the Troy district, while Columbiana (15-6) goes tonight against Boston Twp. (20-2) at Canton with a regional berth at stake. Miller City (21-2) meets Ridgeville (21-4) in the semi-finals tonight at defiance.

All district meets will be concluded Saturday night, with 16 Class A and 16 Class AA teams moving on to regional elimination tests. The Class A regionals are scheduled at Canton, Lima, Troy and Athens, and the double-A events at Berea, Kent, Cincinnati, Toledo and Marion.

Only one game will be played at Marion, the winner moving to Toledo to meet the opening game victor there for a state tournament spot.

Heavy Rains Stall New Orleans Open

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Waterlogged fairways and a promise of more rain greeted the field today for the weather-delayed $20,000 New Orleans Open golf tournament.

More than 1½ inches of rain fell early Thursday, covering the City

Washington C.H. Team Only Unbeaten Outfit In Freshmen Tourney

The Washington C. H. Lion outfit emerged today as the only remaining undefeated team in a fast and furious eight-school freshmen basketball tournament being held in the high school gym here.

The Lions eased out Wilmington 45-43, in a feature game Thursday night after the Hurricane missed two potentially tying foul shots in the last 15 seconds of play.

The loss threw Wilmington freshmen into the loser's round, where they must win another game in order to edge into the finals.

Greenfield won out over Cedarville, 45-26, Thursday night in a loser's round contest, and Little Miami upset Madison Mills, 58-42, in another. Greenfield and Cedarville, thus, will meet at 6:30 p. m. Saturday in a vital loser's round match in which one of them will be eliminated.

Winner of the 6:30 p. m. game will have an hour to relax, then will come back at 9 p. m. to meet Wilmington in the final game of the loser's series. The winner of that game will come back Monday to play Washington C. H. for the championship.

SATURDAY night's action will include an intermission-time game

Stuebenville Loses In Bid for NIT

NEW YORK (AP) — Stuebenville College, which had hopes of getting into the National Invitational basketball tournament, will have to be content with one member of the team going to New York.

Jim Smith, 6-foot-6 Baron star who averaged 20.9 points and 23.5 rebounds, was named Thursday to the East team for the East-West clash March 29.

Stuebenville declined an NAIA bid to keep the door open for a possible invitation from the NIT. NIT officials, however, passed up the Ohio school.

Fark course with several inches of water in some spots.

The field of 150 will play 18-hole rounds today and Saturday with the 36-hole finals set for Sunday. If rain forces another delay today, play may have to be extended until Monday.

between two picked teams of Washington C. H. High School boys, who will vie at 8 p. m. to give the winner of the evening's first game a rest before coming back to play in the second game.

Coaches and other regular basketball fans on hand Thursday night admitted they felt Madison Mills was a likely winner in the opening game of the evening's trio. But the Warriors trailed almost from the start as the hard-working Little Miami boys drove relentlessly to victory.

Carl Pierce carried the brunt of the scoring burden for Little Miami, connecting for 18 points in the course of the game. Ron Ford scored 12 for the losers.

Cedarville, an early-round winner over Leesburg, never had a chance as the Greenfield squad trampled them, 45-26, in the second of two prelims Thursday. Don Grooms spelled ruin for the Greene County boys as he dropped through 13 points.

THE GAME between the Wilmington-Washington C. H. teams provided plenty of basketball for the fans who stayed around.

Wilmington began by building up a first-half lead, which they had frittered away before the intermission gun, in exchange for a 22-22 tie. Washington C. H. came back in the third period to run out in front by nine points.

At that point, the Hurricane started again to roar. They cut into the Lions' lead and were just two points down in the final 15 seconds when they missed the two foul shots which they could have parlayed into an overtime.

GI Crouse was tops for the Lion frosh, scoring 15 points.

Here's a rundown of the scoring: Little Miami — Mitchell 7, Pierce 18, Strochen 9, West 12, Laymon 10, Browning 2; and Madison Mills — Ford 12, Henry 10, Williams 8, Martin 6 and Rogers 6.

Greenfield — Maynard 3, Lynch 2, Grooms 22, Morehead 13, Roark 3, and Myers 2; and Cedarville — White 4, Willis 15, Snyder 6, Myers 1 and Beagle 0.

Washington C. H. — Seaman 12, Baker 1, Crouse 15, Wilson 14, Reno 3; and Wilmington — Kidd 14, Porter 11, Mustard 4, Claiborne 4, Curtis 4, Washington 5, and Jones 1.

Michigan Teams Eye Tank Titles

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Michigan's Wolverines, undefeated in dual meets this season, and defending champion Michigan State were among the top challengers today when the Big Ten swimming meet got into full swing.

The Spartans and Michigan were tied 7-7 in team standings after the runoff of one event Thursday night, the 1500-meter freestyle won by Michigan State's William Stewart.

The Wolverines picked up enough points in the time trials of the opening event swim in two heats. Indiana collected 4 points, Illinois 3, and Iowa 1.

Sports-Minded Kids Reel Off 'Seasons'

ST. JOHN, Kan. (AP) — A teacher gave her third-grade class a little quiz and asked them, among other things, to name the four seasons of the year.

Cindy Hobson put down on her paper: "Duck season, deer season, quail season and pheasant season."

Jamie Richardson answered: "Football season, basketball season, track season and tennis season."

IN SHIFT — Leo Strang, football coach at Cleveland's Shaw High School, is the new head coach and athletic director at Massillon High School. He received a three-year contract, calling for a salary of $8,000 a year.

National Ski Jump Scheduled Again

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (AP) — Blown out once and bailed out a second time, the national ski jumping championships are scheduled again this weekend on towering Pine Mountain slide.

The big meet originally was to have been held Feb. 15-16, but high winds and biting, 18-degree below zero temperatures forced officials to postpone it.

Then, on March 1-2 a 50-degree "heat" wave turned snow and ice into slush, again wiping the ill-fated event off the slate.

This time, officials say, the weather outlook is good.

Ex-Bryan Official's Case May Go to Jury Decision Today

BRYAN, Ohio (AP)—The trial of Garland A. Beck, former Williams County treasurer charged with embezzling $5,337 from office funds and falsifying reports, is expected to go to the jury today.

The 56-year-old Beck, who resigned Sept. 25 after the shortages were discovered, testified Thursday that he has no knowledge where the missing money went. He said he knew nothing about any shortage until a state examiner discovered it two days before he resigned.

Judge Harvey E. Hyman has dismissed 14 counts involving larceny against Beck, but he overruled a defense motion to dismiss the remaining 22 counts included in two indictments.

Two weeks ago, Beck was found innocent of taking the $1,656 missing from the sales tax funds in the treasurer's office.

800 Available For Employment Here, BUC Says

Many on List Now Commuting To Other Cities

Approximately 600 men and 200 women are available for employment in Washington C. H. at current wages, according to a March bulletin issued by the Ohio State Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

The statement adds that about one-third of these individuals are commuters to jobs in other cities but prefer local employment.

A number of the men have experience in the manufacture of electric motors as packers, in the making of lumber and wood products as operators of drill presses and shapers, and in the production of refrigerators as electrical line assemblers.

Others have been employed as truck drivers, filling station attendants, and construction and food processing laborers.

Around one-fourth of the men are skilled, two-fifths semi-skilled, and the rest largely unskilled or service workers. Approximately three out of every four are younger than 45 years.

SOME OF THE WOMEN registered with the Fayette County Employment Office have worked in hotels and restaurants as maids, and kitchen helpers and in various establishments as typists, file clerks, and parttime salespersons.

About one-fourth of the women are semi-skilled, and one-seventh are qualified for clerical or sales occupations. The rest are mostly unskilled or service workers.

Around one-half are between 18 and 35 years of age.

Hourly entry wages usually offered by local manufacturers are: Men: unskilled, $1 to $1.25; semi-skilled, $1.25 to $1.45; skilled, $1.45 to $2.50. Women: unskilled $1 to $1.05; semi-skilled, $1.05 to $1.20; skilled, $1.20 to $1.65.

Average weekly earnings of Fayette County factory workers covered by the Ohio Unemployment Compensation Law have run nearly three-tenths under the state average in recent years.

More than one-fourth of Fayette County's working population were occupied in agriculture in 1950; while one-sixth were engaged in manufacturing. Around 24,200 persons were in the county in 1956.

President Eisenhower's proposed $3,940,000 foreign aid program would cost Fayette County taxpayers and estimated $516,203, according to figures prepared by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

The cost to Ohio taxpayers as a whole would be $243,492, according to Harry W. Arnold, Ohio C. of C. president.

The share estimates are based on calculations that Ohio residents and taxpayers pay 6.18 per cent of the total tax burden.

MEANWHILE, in Columbus Rep. John J. Lynch (D-Mahoning) asked Gov. C. William O'Neill, now vacationing in Florida, to change his position on SUB and "restore Ohio to a state of law and not of men."

Mahoning Common Pleas Court ruled SUB payments are permissible under state law, but O'Neill directed Atty. Gen. William Saxbe to appeal the decision and ask for a postponement of payments until the issue is finally decided.

A similar plea came from the Ohio CIO Council Thursday. A press release issued by the organization said it is "difficult to understand Gov. C. William O'Neill's policy of denying badly needed financial assistance to the unemployed although such assistance involves no cost to the state or the taxpayers."

SUB payments come from funds established by certain industries and unions. Ohio has held that SUB payment must be deducted from unemployment benefits paid by the state.

How to add years to your life

100 years ago the average American could expect to live about 40 years.

Today—about 70. Modern sanitation, diet, drugs and medical practice have added 30 years to our life span. And note that 70 is average. Many die sooner. Many live longer. You up your chances of being a "longer" if you eat properly and get proper medical care. This means periodic check-ups by your physician. As pharmacists we are pleased to help by supplying the drugs your doctor prescribes—drugs unknown a century ago. We're so conscious of the effectiveness of modern medicine that we're shooting for a life span of 100 years.

THE LAMP IN THE WINDOW

Symbolic of the earlier days of American pharmacy was the lighted lamp in the drugstore window. All through the night it glowed, a beacon of hope, a symbol of unselfish service.

Although the historic lamp is now practically extinct, the fundamentals of pharmaceutical practice have changed but little. The responsibilities of the pharmacist are greater today than ever before — he is a vital factor in medical care.
